Sculpted by lagoon-like pools and swaying palm trees, this spacious hotel has the feel of a friendly Canarian village with white washed buildings, stunning plazas and boulevards to stroll along. Its low-rise form fits perfectly with the natural surroundings, where coffee-coloured mountains reach to the skyline and the coves of Playa Blanca are nearby. Focusing on luxury and showcasing an entrance with the 'wow factor', the elegant designer interior leads to a dazzling array of bars and restaurants. Choose to relax by the pools while the children are thrilled with the kids' clubs or take a dip in the Despacio Spa with dynamic seawater treatments. A cute sandy cove sits close by and the seafront promenade invites you to explore or maybe you'll be tempted by an early morning jog? Look forward to relaxing and exploring at the H10 Rubicon Palace.
